Someone once said that no city is as intensely American as New York City. That sounds right, and we are proud to say that New York is also a great American Airlines city. We have been serving the New York area for almost three-quarters of a century and have a strong network uniquely capable of connecting the world to this city.

With the new, state-of-the-art terminal completed at John F. Kennedy International Airport in 2008, we are poised to play an even bigger role in New York's growth for decades to come. The beautiful $1.1 billion facility, which covers nearly 1.5 million square feet, strengthens American's position at JFK at one of North America's foremost airports and international gateways.

Just as New York sets a standard for American cities, American Airlines sets the standard for travel to and from this metropolis. Our new terminal is world-class in every respect, with features and amenities designed to please visitors and New Yorkers alike, adding convenience and comfort to the travel experience they deserve.

Today, American flies to 31 destinations from JFK, 20 of them international flights including the convenient daily nonstop from Tokyo since 2002.

There is no better time than now, to experience all the excitement the Big Apple has to offer!

American Airlines® UPDATE

AAdvantage One-Way Flex Awards

Introducing AAdvantage One-Way Flex Awards – a whole new approach to frequent flyer travel – PLUS an enhanced award booking tool on AA.com.

We've enhanced award travel by making MileSAAver® and AAnytime® awards - One-Way Flex Awards – a brand new way to use your AAdvantage miles.

Use your miles in a variety of award combinations to book a one-way trip, a round trip, or a multi-city trip. New One-Way Flex Awards are offered at a one-way mileage rate - exactly half of the round-trip rate.

Here are some examples of new ways to combine awards that make your miles work for you:

Example 1 – Perhaps your flight time or date is more flexible on the way to your destination than the return - Combine a MileSAAver and an AAnytime award

Los Angeles – Las Vegas (one-way Economy Class MileSAAver award)	12,500
Las Vegas – Los Angeles (one-way Economy Class AAnytime award)	25,000
Total Miles	37,500

Example 2 – Save some miles on the way out and enjoy a bit of luxury on the return → Combine different classes of service with All-Partners Airline Award

Sydney - New York (one-way Economy All-Partners Airline award)	37,500
New York - Sydney (one-way Business All-Partners Airline award)	62,500
Total Miles	100,000

Example 3 – Go one way - with All-Partners Airline Award

Sydney - London (one-way Economy All-Partners Airline award)	45,000
Total Miles	45,000

As you can see, you now have more options, more flexibility, and almost endless ways to customize your award travel. Find out more about our new One-Way Flex Awards and see how easy it is to book award travel at www.aa.com/flexawards.

Fly American Airlines From Dallas/Fort Worth To Madrid

Enjoy Madrid For Summer Outdoors And Vacation Adventures

Summer fun and adventures started early for American Airlines customers. Those who seek the sights, culture, and experiences of Spain can join them.

On May 1 American launched daily nonstop service from Dallas/Fort Worth to Madrid. Dallas/Fort Worth International Airport (DFW) and Madrid-Barajas International Airport (MAD) now connect North Texas and the Central and Western United States with the capital of Spain.

The DFW to MAD flight leaves daily from Dallas/Fort Worth International Airport at 5:30 p.m. CDT, and arrives in Madrid at 9:55 a.m. local time the next day after a nine and a half hour flight.

Once visitors deplane and exit customs, the Madrid Metro can be taken to the Atocha railway station. From there, American's customers can take a two-hour and 15 minute ride on the Alta Velocidad Espana (AVE), the country's high-speed rail network, to Seville for an afternoon exploring the Plaza de Espana. AVE also transports travelers to and from Malaga and Barcelona. Eventually, travelers will be able to take the AVE from Atocha to all Spain's cities.

DFW to Madrid is only the beginning of the adventure. American, its oneworld® Alliance partners, the new service provides convenient and seamless travel to 87 nonstop destinations beyond Madrid into Europe, Africa and Asia.

Flight Number	Departs	Arrives	Travel Time
AA36	Dallas - 5:30 p.m.	Madrid - 9:55 a.m. (next day)	9 hours 30 minutes
AA37	Madrid - 1:10 p.m.	Dallas - 4:45 p.m.	10 hours 35 minutes
